

Eagles Topple Butler U. In Season's Opener 26-7

Power Football is Key To Team's Initial Victory

(Reprint from the Lexington Herald-Leader and the Courier Journal.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12—Morehead's progressive ground attack, linked with a rugged first-half defense, handed Butler a 26-7 loss today, the first the Bulldogs have absorbed in the Butler Bowl since 1960.

The Eagles were the whole show in the first half, building a comfortable 19-0 advantage by grinding out short yardage, and allowing the Bulldogs only one first down and a paltry five yards rushing.

Russ Campbell and Dennis Brown supplied the consistent yardage while the aerial artillery of quarterback Mike Gottfried was kept to a minimum.

After the ball had changed hands twice in the first quarter, Campbell, a line busting fullback, led an assault which netted 64 yards and the first Eagle touchdown.

Gottfried carried the mail for the marker on a quarterback sneak from the two-yard line. Den Hall's kick was good and Morehead led 7-0.

Morehead's hefty front wall, anchored by 250-pound James Osborne, promptly stymied a Bulldogs attempt to put the game on even terms.

Dan Daley's punt started another march for the Kenuckians. Sophomore halfback Scotty Reddick returned the kick 39 yards to the Butler 32. Three plays later Reddick started left end to build a 13-0 bulge for the Eagles.

A Butler attempt to start something rolling failed again and another Eagle score was in the making before intermission.

This time it took 17 plays and six first downs before Brown capped an 84-yard drive for the Eagles with a scoring plunge from the three.

An excellent catch by end Richard Pare set the stage for the score. Gottfried's pass clipped the hands of an opposing halfback before Pare could haul it in for a 34-yard gain.

After the half, the Eagles raced to a 26-0 lead, then had a fight on their hands the final 20 minutes when the coach Gay Perry tried to give his rookies a chance to "grow up some more."

The final score for Morehead State came in the third period on Gottfried's 24-yard strike to Campbell who bounced into the end zone after a bone-chilling block by Jack Smith.

Butler moved 63 yards in 15 plays against the Eagle rookies, picking up first down three times on fourth down. Art Beck tossed 15 yards to Columbus and Charles Wain to avert the shutout in the last quarter.

The Eagles relied on power football.

They hammered the Bulldogs ends and when Butler spread its defense, Morehead crunched with its Campbell between the guards. Campbell led all ball carriers by gaining 79 yards.

So effective was Morehead's defense--the bright spot in Perry's summary--that Butler managed just 11 net yards rushing in the first half and one first down. Butler picked up 10 of its 13 first down after Morehead scored its last touchdown.

Building coach Tony Hinkle could say only after the game, "Our recruiting has gone sour the last two years. We had boys out there who couldn't make some of our past teams."

Editor's Note: Just before press time, it was discovered that the net trip was a hot one for the Eagles--the bus they were traveling on caught fire when they were just about half-hour out of Indianapolis. The fire was extinguished and no one was injured, but the team was required to change to another bus to complete the trip.

Editorial Policy Reiterated For School Year

Abraham Lincoln once said that to sin by silence when one could protest makes cowards out of men. The same holds true for a newspaper, and the Trail Blazer does not intend to sin by silence.

In accord with the purpose of Morehead State College, the policy of the Trail Blazer is to do its part in helping to build a greater institution of higher learning. This growth, in order to be normal and constructive, must be a continuing process and must not be interrupted by periods of internal upheaval and disorientation. One can not build successfully by continually tearing down what one has built.

Likewise, the purpose of the Trail Blazer is not to attack or tear down the institution or any of its parts, but to help strengthen, build and support the institution which it serves. As a servant, the paper owes loyalty to Morehead State College and the students of the college. We will support the institution in its moves toward the process of bettering higher education in the state and the nation.

However, the paper will not subscribe to a policy of blind loyalty and be thus guilty of the sin of omission. As has been shown in the past, the Trail Blazer recognizes and will utilize its duty as the "official newspaper of Morehead State College" and will not knowingly "sin by silence."

If, in the opinion of the editorial staff, a transgression has been evidenced, the Trail Blazer will attempt to point out the situation, offer possible means of solution and support feasible measures to correct the error. The papers will be "yellow sheet" and its staff not "muckrakers," but it will endeavor to take interest in campus happenings and offer its views from time to time.

Trail Blazer editorials are not the brainchildren of an irate editorial staff who wish to criticize rather than solve, slander rather than elevate or irritate rather than placate. They are not stab in the dark or attempts to fill space, but are products of the earnest thinking of a number of individuals who hold the future success of Morehead State College at the apex of their endeavor. The Trail Blazer is the official paper of Morehead State College, not a vent through which the editor relieves his mind of goodly portions of his own frustration.

The late great journalist Henry Wotton, founder and editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, was always known as the champion and supporter of a cause. The cause that supported and spearheaded by the Trail Blazer, its editor and staff is that of a growing, dynamic MOREHEAD STATE COLLEGE.

Become An Asset, Not A Liability

Welcome, Freshmen, to Morehead State College.

Over the years, students of many races, religions, creeds and localities have been given the opportunity for educational advancement and refinement at Morehead. And, as they have gladly received, they have also freely given of their time, and abilities to help the college grow into the institution that it is today — one of the most dynamic and far-reaching institutions of higher learning in the United States.

During the next few years, you will have the opportunity to learn the essence of Morehead's "spirit" and to leave your mark upon the institution through your contributions to student life and service to the college in general. You are now faced with a choice of whether to make this mark or not.

You may become an asset, a liability or merely deadwood to the college and yourself. Assets bring desirable results for all concerned. Liabilities cause discomfort for all, and (take fair warning) at Morehead State College continue its expanded growth and progress. Liabilities will not be allowed to remain such for long. They will either reform or they will soon be on the famous "bus heading East" or the "bus heading West."

The deadwood will continue on its course, merely floating around and doing much harm, but certainly not going to any constructive use.

Dr. Doran Says Education Is Key In "War On Ignorance"

Washington, D. C. — "The most important area of endeavor in any 'war on poverty' should be a 'war on ignorance' through education," Dr. Fred Doran, President of Morehead State College, said here on August 18.

Addressing the Committee on Resolution of the 1964 Democratic National Convention, Dr. Doran said, "The National Education Association believes that the immediate priority legislative objective in the field of education should be general Federal support for public elementary and secondary education."

Dr. Doran, who is a member of the 11-man NEA legislative committee, appeared before the Committee on Resolutions at the official representative of NEA with its more than 900,000 members. He is the only college president on the committee.

The Kentucky educators said, "Because the tax resources of our states and localities are already strained to the limit and because this nation is now faced with critical shortages of qualified teachers and educational facilities, the NEA urges that every effort be made to secure legislation utilizing the broader federal tax base to meet the urgent needs of American public elementary and secondary education."

Dr. Doran commended recent Congress for several landmark achievements in education, including the National Defense Education Act, aid for academic facilities in higher education, vocational education, manpower, development and training, educational television, the education provisions of the recently passed anti-poverty program and other categorical aids.

The additional support for public elementary and secondary education "take the form of direct Federal grants to the States for the purposes they deem most pressing for school construction, teachers' salaries, for a combination of these, or for other operational purposes," he said.

He added that such Federal support should assure that the control of the program of education remains with the States and localities and that the States and localities continue to accelerate their financial support efforts.

Dr. Doran, who in April represented the NEA before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Education, added, "In the area of education and economic opportunity, the NEA opposes tax credits, deductions or other tax allowances for certain college expenses."

"Tax allowances for college expenses have great deficiencies at either a tax measure or an education measure," he said. "The NEA's principal objection to tax allowances is that a deduction or credit for college expenses, regardless of its form will not give relief where it is most needed and therefore will not expand educational opportunity."

Dr. Doran pointed out that non-taxable persons and taxpayers with insufficient tax liability to take full advantage of the tax allowance would obtain little or no benefit and large families with low income would receive little or no benefit.

"Families of fairly substantial means, who would send their children to college in any event, would get the most relief," he said.

He added that the NEA feels the best approach to aiding low-income families is through direct scholarships and loans to the most needy and promising students—not through tax allowances.

Workshop Draws Over Sixty Participants

Over sixty writers from better than ten states attended the annual Morehead State College Writers' Workshop which began on July 27. Albert Stewart was director.

Guest lectures for the two-week conference which ended on August 7 were Harriette Arnow, world-renowned author of Hunger for Memory, The Pollmaker and other novels; Jack Gilbert, 1964-65 Guggenheim Fellow and noted poet; R. V. Cassill, Iowa author of over a dozen novels; Dayton Kohler, noted editor and critic from Blacksburg, Va.; James Still, author in residence at Morehead State College and prize winning author; Dr. Arthur K. Moore, Professor of English at the University of Kentucky; and a Morehead graduate; David Madden, novelist, playwright and critic from Louisville; and Dr. Harvey C. Webster, creative writing professor at the University of Louisville.

"Classes" in poetry, non-fiction, short story, novel and playwrighting were held each day, individual conferences and group schedules were also scheduled, as well as evening lectures.

Lunch Seminars Held On Campus

School Lunch Seminars were held on the Morehead State College campus from August 10-21 in a joint project between the Kentucky State Department of Education and the college.

The first School Lunch Seminar was held from August 10-14 and was designed for personnel who are responsible for managing and operating school lunch programs. Seminars were placed upon increasing knowledge and maintaining high standards in food, food preparation, service, sanitation, and management.

A second seminar was held from August 17-21. This seminar was an advanced program designed to encourage continuing growth for school lunch personnel who participated in the previous seminar. Special emphasis was placed upon nutrition and menu planning.

WELCOME FRESHMEN! This is a phrase that you will be hearing for a few weeks and it is a sincere one.

We are looking forward to y'all coming to Morehead and it is our hope that you will go all out in support of your Eagles. A great football coach once said, "A good team is made up of 10% skill, 10% guts, 10% desire, and 70% frame of mind." That "frame of mind" is where you come in. Through your support, cheers and good wishes you can make your Eagles soar to the OVC championship.

They have been here since August 26 getting ready for the season and you have this week to get ready, so be ready and our team will not disappoint you.

1964 FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

Young Guy Penny has put together two winning seasons in a row at Morehead State College—something no other football coach could do in well over a decade at Morehead.

The Eagles posted a 5-4 record last year after a 5-3 mark in 1962 but this year is much the same in 1964 as it has been for the past two years—Penny has a top-notch first year but very little depth.

Seventeen lettermen return but beyond that number Penny has only question marks. Key losses include: halfback Howard Marshall, who was signed by the Dallas Cowboys; guard Scott Davidson; tackle Roy Lucas; center Ron Ratliff and halfback Leo Vessell.

Penny's number one quarterback will be junior Mike Gottfried, who completed 59 of 131 passes last year for 856 yards and 10 touchdowns. The poised and competent Gottfried will be backed by sophomore Jay Burjan who showed great improvement in Spring drills.

If back will again be strong with 195-pound senior Dennis Brown, converted junior quarterback Tally Johnson and freshman Tommy Gray leading the contingent. Gray, who was held out of action last year, is a speedy 170-pounder who has a 9.6 to his credit in the 100-yard dash and is tickled for stardom at Morehead.

Manning the fullback slot will be senior Russ Campbell who led the Eagles in rushing last year with 347 yards and 4.2 average. Sophomore Scotty Russell will help provide good depth at fullback.

Attend, Penny has three of the Ohio Valley Conference's best in seniors: guard Pate and Jack Smith and junior George Adams. Pate is a defensive specialist while Smith caught 26 passes last season for 272 yards and a 15.6 average.

Three veterans will head a crop of tackles which will lack depth but has good size. 250-pound James Osborne, a junior, leads the pack with senior Richard Jones and junior Charles Wagner expected to fight for the other starting post.

FLYING LOW—(l to r) Mike Fletcher and Gary Virden are the two Eagles trying for the fumble.

Penny will have only two seasoned veterans at guard in junior James Ball and Ken Howard while the center post will be manned by junior Bill Hornbeck and sophomore Gary Virden, who has been shifted from guard.

The Eagles play a rugged nine-game schedule, opening with Butler University on Sept. 12 and meeting Marshall University in the Shrine game in Ashland on Sept. 19. Morehead dealt Butler its only loss in 1963 and also downed Marshall as the Big Green went on to finish second in the rugged Mid-American Conference.

Seven straight Ohio Valley Conference games follow the two opening encounters as the Eagles hope to better their 3-4 conference record of last year after holding the conference co-championship the previous year.

Morehead will be playing in the new Breathitt Sports Center for the first time this year. The $600,000 center includes a 10,000 seat stadium, practice track, baseball field and practice football field.

Eastern gives up Haws Rifle

We thought the following story from a recent Courier-Journal would be of interest to our readers:

"Eastern Kentucky State College is discontinuing the practice of permitting its athletic teams to exchange trophies with teams from other schools."

The ban was announced yesterday by the Athletic Committee which said the old policy contributed to "unwholesome attitudes and practices contrary to the best interest of the academic program."

"Presumably the order was directed against such things as the rivalry between Eastern and Morehead for possession of 'the old haws rifle.' The weapons are to the team winning the schools annual football game."

The committee said it was terminating any agreements it held with other institutions and that permanent possession of trophies "shall be given to the institution with which the agreement was made."

"Eastern's athletic director, Glenn Pressnell, was instructed to notify their schools of the policy."

My only question is, how can Eastern give up something that they've had for the last two years and only once in the last four. Well, guess we will keep it anyway.

My guess will have many surprises and some disappointments, but this is to be expected. Your support is needed and welcomed, so don't let the boys down. Remember BE GOOD SPORTS.....FANS.

Eagles To Face Marshall In Annual Shrine Game

By Quentin Callahan
Trail Blazer Sports Writer

The Morehead State College Eagles will play host to Marshall University in the annual Shrine Bowl in Ashland on September 19.

This will be the third consecutive year that Morehead has been invited to play in this annual event.

Last year the Eagles topped a strong Butler team 31-13. Butler went undefeated for the rest of the season and to their fourth straight Indiana Conference Championship.

Morehead will be out for revenge over the Big Green this year and will try to settle up the score for the defeat to Marshall in the Shrine Bowl in 1962.

The Eagles last year took the decision over Marshall 19-9, in a game that was not decided until the final quarter.

Morehead will again have the services of junior quarterback Mike Gottfried, who led the Eagles to victory over Marshall last year.

Marshall, who has been rated as a strong defensive team, will have their hands full with junior halfback Tally Johnson and senior fullback Russ Campbell. This should be the driving punch for a strong Morehead offensive.

Last year Marshall finished third in the Mid-American Conference, and this year the Big Green is picked to finish second. The Eagles, who had a season finish last year with a 5-4 record, are slated to be one of the top powers in the Ohio Valley Conference.

The two teams are evenly matched on the line, so the offense will play a key factor in the game.

The Shrine game is sponsored by El Haza Temple of Ashland and the proceeds go to Shrine charities.

Regional Bowl May Be Held On Conference Team's Field

Football in the Ohio Valley Conference is classified "small college" by the N.C.A.A., but that tag may be losing its meaning.

Coach Graham, coach of the Coast Guard's first unbeaten team, and his staff compared Western Kentucky with eastern "majors" Syracuse and Boston College after the 1963 O.V.C. champions demolished the Cadets 27-0 in the Tangerine Bowl.

Now the National Collegiate Athletic Association is making plans to place a regional "pay-off" bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Officials visited the Middle Tennessee State College campus to inspect facilities. The Murfreesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce has offered to cosponsor the game on December 12.

Word from N.C.A.A. headquarters in Kansas City is expected to be favorable. The other three bowls designed to determine regional small-college champions will be held at Orlando, Fla., Athens, Tex., and Sacramento, Cal.

O.V.C. champions have been frequent season participants, concentrating on the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando. If Murfreesboro plans to materialize it would virtually assure the O.V.C. the host's position.

O.V.C. coaches feel the league is improving. Commissioner Art Guepe, longtime coach at Vanderbilt, prefers his league to be "big dogs" in a little pond instead of little ones in the big pool.

The league's scholarship program—the most important recruiting tool—numbers a 1-to-6 ratio with the southeastern Conference. The O.V.C. prohibits the $15 monthly allowance.

NEARING COMPLETION — The $600,000 Breathitt Sports Center at Morehead State College is nearing completion. Shown here is the 10,000 seat stadium and the grasses track. Construction on the superstructure of the stadium has been completed and the turf on the playing field is growing at a satisfactory pace for the home opener against Tennessee Tech on October 3.

KEA Head Tells Graduates They Control World's Destiny

Roger Jones, President of the Kentucky Education Association, urged the 241 summer graduates at Morehead State College on August 6 to become active in political affairs.

Speaking before a crowd of over 3,000, he said, "As our country grows, it is important to stand guard for the most hands at the crossroads of destiny. It would seem that for the most part, the people are the citizens to abstain from the making of decisions.

"If we do abstain, there are plenty of others who are willing and happy to make our decisions for us," added the Breathitt County High School teacher. "Remember, it wasn't the educators who made the important decisions in Russia, China and Cuba.

Speaking from the Morehead Fieldhouse, he said that the teachers of America hold the destiny of the country in their hands.

More than ever before we must teach the true meaning of the beautiful words we write in textbooks and carve on marble," he said. "And we must teach them not as parrots, but as people who must live by their words."

Dr. Ardon Doran, President of Morehead State College, presented degrees to 31 Master of Arts candidates.

graduates, 42 Bachelor of Science candidates and 168 Bachelor of Arts candidates.

Graduating with high distinction were: Betty Jean Collins, Maylick; Stephen Emory Fido, Duquenne, Pa.; and William M. Whitaker, Ill., Morehead.

Graduating with distinction were: Hazel Kidd Davis, Morehead; Hester R. Harding, Mt. Oliver; Mary Ann Henley, Catlettsburg; Barbara Garrett Lyons, Owensville; and Martha Deane North, Greensburg.

Over 500 persons attended the alumni banquet and reception given by President and Mrs. Doran prior to the commencement exercises.

TRAIL BLAZER STAFF TO MEET THURSDAY

The initial meeting of the Trail Blazer staff will be held Thursday, Sept. 17, in the Trail Blazer office (ground floor, Allie Young Hall) at 4:00 p.m.

All freshmen and other students who are interested in working on the paper should attempt to attend this meeting. If it is impossible for you to attend, you should contact the editor, Roger Dixon, in the Trail Blazer office as soon as possible.

Students are encouraged to try for staff positions.

All regular staff members should also plan to attend this meeting.

Henry C. Haggan

Henry C. Haggan Retires, Recognition Dinner Is Held

Henry C. Haggan, the only active member of the Morehead State College faculty who has served since the college was established in 1923, was honored with a Recognition Dinner in the Doran Student House on Friday, July 31.

A professor of agriculture and head of the department, Haggan retired at the close of the summer term.

Mr. Haggan has devoted many years of his life to the rural youth of the Commonwealth and has greatly distinguished himself in various areas of agriculture," said Morehead President Ardon Doran.

"He is highly deserving of the recognition given him."

Haggan earned the B. S. degree from the University of Kentucky in 1918 and the M.S. degree in 1924 and has affiliated himself with numerous organizations in agriculture.

Haggan also was honored at the dinner by the Morehead Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and Lions Club.

Dr. Robert B. Stewart, Dean of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, was the featured speaker at the recognition dinner.

Tom Young Claimed

Thomas D. Young, for nearly 30 years one of Morehead's most accomplished personalities, died July 21 in Green Memorial Hospital, Xenia, Ohio. He was 63.

An art professor at Morehead State College for 28 years, Young had to retire in April because of illness. He and Mrs. Young moved to Xenia, where their only child, Don, is art supervisor for the city elementary schools.

Young had been a patient in the hospital three days. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE — The Division of Professional Education is planning to use closed circuit television for observation and training purposes this fall. Pictured looking at one of the cameras are (l to r): Dr. Lawrence Stewart, Chairman of the Division;

Dr. Norman Tant, Director of Audio-Visual Services; Reudus Back, Director of the Breckinridge Training School; and Mrs. Russell Kirk, who will be the director of the closed-circuit television instruction.

Education Department Plans Closed-Circuit TV This Fall

The Division of Professional Education will feature closed circuit television instruction for observation and training purposes during the first semester of the 1964-65 school term.

Mrs. Russell Kirk, an experienced teacher who has worked with television instruction in the Jefferson County schools, will be director of the closed-circuit television instruction here. She and her husband moved to Morehead in August.

Mr. Kirk is the director of security at the college. In addition to Mrs. Kirk, members of the planning committee are Dr. Lawrence Stewart, Chairman of the Division of Professional Education; Dr. Norman Tant, Director of Audio-Visual Services; Mr. Reudus Back, Director of the Breckinridge Training School; Dr. Ardon Doran, President; and Dean W. C. Lappin.

While minor experiments have been in progress here and will be unique as an experiment in the training of teachers in this section of the country.

Because of the increased enrollment in the college during the last few years, there has been a great increase in the number of observers in the training school.

Since the facilities at the school have not increased proportionately, other means were sought so college students in training to become teachers could observe master teaching without going into the classroom and overcrowding the facilities.

In accordance with plans developed earlier this year, a television production room in the Breckinridge Training School is being prepared with special lighting and acoustical provisions where the programs will be produced. Teachers will take their students to this room for instruction at scheduled periods and college students preparing to teach will be privileged to observe them along with their professors. Five classrooms in the Social-Science Education building are being equipped with television receiving sets where students may observe. Also, the auditorium in the Training School is being equipped with T.V. sets where large groups may observe.

In addition to relieving the overcrowding of the Breckinridge Training School classrooms by college observers, closed-circuit television instruction will provide the college teachers opportunities to point out to their students certain teaching techniques and developmental tasks of children as well as to see many types of newer media being used by the teachers.

Also, eight one-way viewing windows are being installed this summer in the walls separating the regular classrooms from smaller conference rooms. College students will be able to observe students, yet will remain unseen by them. This will produce a more natural situation for the students in the classes in that they may or may not be aware of observers.

The students in the Professional Semester Block, Human Growth and Development, and General Psychology will take advantage of this arrangement in the beginning. Students from other classes such as the Teaching of Reading, the Teaching of Arithmetic, and other methods courses, will be permitted to observe closed-circuit television instruction as the program becomes established.

Dr. Stewart said that he believed this new innovation in teaching will greatly improve our efforts in training of teachers at Morehead State College.

He said, "the plans call for training of student teachers to operate the TV cameras, assist in writing the scripts, and actually doing some closed-circuit TV teaching themselves which will be of immeasurable value to them not only for the experience, but for the better position in which it places them in securing desirable teaching positions."

"Finals" are coming up in every form. The final game of the intramural softball league, between the 197's and 198's, will be played Tuesday, May 19, at 4:00 p.m., on the intramural field. The final of the OVC Championship between Morehead State College, champion of the eastern division and Murray State College, champion of the western division were held last weekend.

The final honor due our spring athletes will take place at the Annual Spring Banquet held in the Doran Student House on Tuesday, May 19, at 7:00 p.m. The track team is preparing for the OVC Meet, and of course final exams (gulp!) start on Monday, May 25.

The Eagle batsmen traveled to Murray, Kentucky to play Murray State College for the Ohio Valley Conference Championship. Last year, neither team owned the honor outright. Rain postponed the third and deciding game, forcing them to seek for a share of the crown.

Morehead, winner of the Eastern Division, took a free-swinging team which posted a 20-6 regular season record and 10-2 mark in the league.

Murray, best in the Western Division, registered an 8-4 record in the conference and a 14-10 overall mark.

The Eagles of Coach Rex Chaney boast a team batting average of .345. Leston (Moose) Stewart and Dennis Doyle lead the hitting specialists. Stewart is batting .425 with nine home runs and 48 RBIs. Doyle has posted a .425 hitting average.

The speedy second sacker also has 25 stolen bases for the year. Harold Sargent boasts a .191 record and a 3.40 earned run average. John Capelle has a 5-3 record and a 2.90 E.R.A. Other pitchers are Wyman Smith 2-1 and Charlie Adkins, 3-4.

Morehead scored 213 runs powered by 12 home runs (their opponents have only combined for 62 runs). The pitching staff fanned 184 batters.

TIP-INS

Joe Foster, a junior history and political science major, from Greensburg was the first and last contest winner. . . Due to the fact that he guessed the pitcher 30 seconds after the paper came out and sent in the correct answer, which was Eddie Felinger of the "King and his Court" softball team. . . The Lakota Club won the challenge softball game over the CIAFA Triadents 24 to 4. It was a lot of fun for all the females and it is hoped that it will develop into a fun fest on Tuesday, May 19, in the Doran Student House, at 7:00 p.m. . . Cawood Lefford, Sports Director of WHAS and WHAS-TV, Louisville, will be the featured speaker. . . Karan Kothari and Larry Stephens are daily honorees for their participation in the physical education program here at M.S.C. and were presented with a plaque from Sigma Delta, the honorary physical education fraternity, and the Kentucky Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, (KAHPER). . . This is the last issue of The Blazer for the term of 1963-64. I would like to extend my thanks to the Physical Education Department, Roger Dixon, Mr. Ray Hornbeck, and my sports staff for their help, advice, and hard work in putting out the sports page. Good luck to you-all on your finals and I'll see you in the fall, and remember: BE GOOD SPORTS. . . FANS!

RUNNERS-UP — The Morehead State College baseball team posted a fine 22-4 record to win the eastern division title of the OVC and place second in the conference.

Steve Hamilton Aiming High With The Yankees This Year

By Dave Whitaker
Major league baseball's No. 1 slapper, left Kentuckian Steve Hamilton, is aiming high this year with a new pitch, renewed confidence and an addition to the family on the way.

"It has to be my best year," enthused the 27-year-old Hamilton yesterday while baby-sitting at the Hackensack, N. J., residence he has rented for the New York Yankee baseball season.

Tough On Righties

A southpaw superhuman in the Yankees' bullpen last year, the 6-foot, 7-inch Hamilton has been sensational in both his relief appearances to date—saving two of the New York's first three wins.

More important, if a million struck out two successive right-handed hitters with two men on base in the ninth inning Gaines and Johnny Orsino and Saturday in throttling Baltimore's Sam Gammon on a pop-up more 4-1. Until this year, to the game.

What did Yogi say after the game? "He was real pleased," said Steve, "but he wanted to know why I let a left-hander get a hit off me!"

Berra, said Hamilton, "is driving the beach wild with his peeing back and forth all during the game. Since he became manager, he's been smoking a carton of cigars a day—I never noticed him smoking like that before."

Hoping For A Boy!

Hamilton's only worry does with the forthcoming arrival of his third child, now scheduled for June 3. He and his wife, Shirley, have two girls but not necessarily a left-hander. We've already got the name picked out, he joked.

"Going to call him Yogi Berra. Ralph Hook Dan Topping Hamilton." Hook now is general manager of the Yanks and Topping is owner.

"The thing that worries me about the baby," he said, "is how am I ever going to explain to him about being born in New York instead of Kentucky? Do you think I could have him naturalized?"

Slider Still Best

The new pitch, said Hamilton, is a medium speed slider ball that behaves like a screw ball, breaking down and away from right-handed batters. "I got from Whiskey (Floyd), said Hamilton, "that the slider still is by far my best pitch."

A slider is a hard curve ball. Hamilton's sharpens against right-handed batters doubles his value to the Yankees and means he'll get to pitch more, he thinks. Promotion of catcher Yogi Berra to manager also augurs well for Hamilton since "Yogi says he has all the confidence in me that I need and I believe him."

If Ralph Hook had still been managing the Yankees before last, Hamilton said "I would've been out of there after Norm Siebern (a left-handed batter) greeted me with a hit. After Baltimore announced a right-handed pinch hitter, I looked at the dugout to see if Yogi was going to call in a right-handed pitcher. Yogi didn't move and I said to myself, 'hot dog, he's gonna leave me in.'" Hamilton then fanned Joe

Hamilton was born in Columbia, Ky., and now owns a home at Morehead, where he teaches and coaches at the college during the off-season. His parents live at Charlottesville, Va. (Reprint from the Courier-Journal)

New Cheerleaders To Be Selected

A new system of selecting cheerleaders has been initiated at MSC. The girls selected for the 1964-65 squad through this system will be announced sometime this week.

In the past, the candidates have been elected by student vote, which often resulted in a popularity contest instead of a contest of skill and ability. Under the new system, the cheerleaders will be selected by a designated committee.

The committee will consist of the entire Student Council, representatives from the physical education department, and a representative from each department at Morehead.

The girls trying out will be

Breckinridge Training School's track team, coached by Nan K. Ward, has dropped its first two meets of the season, despite outstanding performances by Sue Pratt, Shirley Murphy and Vanda Jelen.

Hamilton's only worry does with the forthcoming arrival of his third child, now scheduled for June 3. He and his wife, Shirley, have two girls but not necessarily a left-hander. We've already got the name picked out, he joked.

The Intramural Outlook

By Dave Shire

Intramural Softball will of Field Meet will begin at 4:00 p.m. this Thursday, May 21, after a close to the season's end. The order of events are as ship game between the 20's and the 197's.

Again, I will not be able to quote you any scores whatsoever due to scorebooks not being kept for this sport.

In League II, the Toppers won the winners bracket and the 197's the losers bracket. The 197's then beat the Toppers twice to win their league.

Other results preceding playoffs: The Aquila Club won the 197's and the 198's over the Aquila Club. League II saw the Collegiate Knights take two consecutive games from the Kadets to prevail as league champs.

The Kadets were the champs in the winners bracket, the 19's champs of the losers bracket.

To become champs of the losers bracket, the 19's beat over the NK's and the Smudges, each having one loss.

The ever present 20's coped the championship in League III.

With four teams with only two wins in this league two weeks ago, elimination was quite rapid.

The Mets eliminated the Unbelievables, and in the Rebels eliminated the Mets.

This league was settled when the 20's won over the Rebels and became eligible for the playoffs.

With the Collegiate Knights, the 197's, and the 198's beating the three league winners, this made it necessary for a drawing.

The 197's drew a bye, and this matched the CK's against the 20's. The 20's came out on top and will meet the 197's for the championship this afternoon at 4:00 in the field in front of Regent Hall.
